Shavu’ot and the Treasure of Torah

In my hometown, Shavu’ot (as we used to call it) seemed somewhat less important than other holy days. Its main claim to fame was the Confirmation service for tenth-graders, held annually on that date. (At Temple, as in many communities, Confirmation has now been disengaged from Shavu’ot and is convened instead on a Saturday night, coinciding with the end of Shabbat.)

We knew that Shavu’ot was the Festival of Weeks, but we weren’t so certain why. The answer is that, beginning on the second night of Passover, we count seven weeks (more specifically, seven cycles of seven days) in order to locate Shavu’ot (“Weeks”), which begins on the night after the forty-nine day period. This interval of “Counting the Omer” is marked by a blessing each evening, followed by the designation of that day’s position in the sequence. Some people follow a practice during the forty-nine days that involves systematically refining character traits in preparation for Shavu’ot. The idea is that revelation appears when we have readied ourselves to receive it.

Shavu’ot also stands second in the sequence of the “Three Festivals,” flanked by Pesach before and Sukkot much later. Pesach is a season of liberation, as we narrate at our Seder table the passage of the Israelites from servitude toward freedom. Shavu’ot commemorates our receiving the Torah at a decisive moment along the Jewish journey: the famous encounter at Mt. Sinai. Finally — beyond the parched season of the 9th of Av; the gradual ascent to Rosh Hashanah with its triumphant call to the spirit, and the transformative inner process of the Day of Atonement — beckons the ultimate harvest of Sukkot, when we rejoice in the fruition of the bountiful potential set in motion by the Exodus.

The receiving of the Torah — the guiding wisdom of revelation — is therefore central to the Jewish narrative, making Shavu’ot an important occasion in our calendar.

In his probing volume, One Generation After, Elie Wiesel recounts from one of his own diaries a story about Shavu’ot in post-World War II America. Wiesel writes about a Hasidic synagogue near his Manhattan apartment, a modest shul with services in the basement. The congregants are survivors from around Warsaw, survivors of concentration camps. On Shavu’ot in New York City they stand to hear the recitation of the Ten Commandments, the loftiest precepts of ethical behavior. Having witnessed such overwhelming atrocities, will these worshippers respond with cynicism or affirmation?

As the story continues, Wiesel tells of an individual who has been designated to offer a plea for funds in support of the ongoing pursuit of Torah by needy students. The speaker declares, “God has given us the Law one time only, yet God asks us to receive it every day.” Not only on Shavu’ot, but on each day, we are given the opportunity of opening ourselves to God’s teaching.

The speaker continues by stating that the virtues of Torah have been proven “irrefutably” by contemporary events! He posits that “of all systems, all ideologies, the Torah is the only one that did not betray man. It produced neither camps nor death-factories…[Those] who adhere to its principles…do not see man as object, as obstacle. They denounce no one as object, as obstacle. They denounce no one and seek no vengeance. Their only wish is to devote all their time to the study of Torah.” Based on this argumentation, the fund-raising is successful: “Everybody contributes, even though everyone, almost without exception, has difficulty making ends meet.”

In Wiesel’s story, the principles enshrined in the Ten Commandments, and the possibility of daily revelation for those who seek it, are reaffirmed on Shavu’ot in the wake of the most egregious betrayal of humanity ever recorded. Generosity trumps despotism, and the renewal of Torah continues.

May this year’s Festival of Weeks, May 14-15, be one during which the light of Torah burns with renewed brightness and hope.

Torah Honors

If you would like to participate in the Shabbat Morning Service in Lefkowitz Chapel by dressing and undressing the Torah, carrying the Torah, or leading the Torah blessings, members of our new Gabbai Team can help you make the arrangements. This is a wonderful way to mark a personal milestone in your life, feel connected to your community and celebrate the richness of our tradition on Shabbat. No experience is necessary but a training session will take place on May 4 following Shabbat morning services and before the Shabbat Nosh if you’d like to practice. Contact our Gabbai Team at gabbaiteam@tedallas.org or by leaving a message at 214.706.0017.

Our Daily Minyan in Lefkowitz Chapel

Sunday-Friday at 8:15 a.m.

Add your voice and your heart to this loyal and loving group of congregants who begin each day with words of prayer. The brief service includes singing, reading in English and Hebrew, prayers for healing and the opportunity for a community to support those in mourning with the recitation of Kaddish.

Sermons On-Line!

We are now posting audio files on the website of the Friday night Shabbat sermons. You can hear a new sermon most Mondays (and 2 on the weeks when we have a 6:15 and an 8:15 service) at http://www.tedallas.org/prayer/sermons.

Rosh Hodesh

Rosh Hodesh, the start of each Hebrew month when the new crescent moon appears in the sky, is a time for celebration and reflection, bringing with it hope, light and promise, growth and fulfillment, not only for the moon but for us. Rosh Hodesh Sivan is Friday, May 10. Look for the new moon on Thursday May 9!

Join us as our friend and teacher, Rabbi Nir Barkin from Kehillat Yozma spends Shabbat with us. Rabbi Barkin will lead Chever Torah on Saturday morning, with a focus on Pirke Avot. At the Lekhowitz Chapel Shabbat Morning Service, he will be speaking on Parashat Naso and the Book of Numbers from an Israeli perspective. Following Shabbat Morning Services, the congregation is invited to our Israel Forum in Linz Hall, where we will share a light lunch and short presentation on Israel Politics – “New Government; New Priorities – Where Do We Go From Here?” Reservations for the Lunch and Learn opportunity can be made by contacting Ellie Solimani, Adult Learning Coordinator, 214.706.0000 or esoliman@tedallas.org. Kehillat Yozma is a young and vibrant Reform community outside of Jerusalem and is affiliated with the Israel Movement for Progressive Judaism (IMPJ).
Founded in 1997, under the leadership of Rabbi Kinneret Shiryon, Israel’s first female rabbi, and a core of dedicated activists, Yozma offers an egalitarian and progressive approach to Jewish ritual. By providing a spiritually relevant, values-based community for today’s Israelis, Yozma is responsive to the dynamics of both Reform Judaism and Israeli society. When Temple Emanu-El has congregational groups visiting Israel, Rabbi Barkin’s congregation welcomes us with open arms and hospitality. In the past two years, we’ve had groups spend Friday evening in worship at Yozma, followed by home hospitality for Shabbat dinners.

Celebrating the Preservation of Rabbi Levi A. Olan Sermons

Rabbi David Stern will provide remarks at the “Rabbi Levi A. Olan Digital Collection Celebration” May 5 from 2:00-4:00 p.m. at Southern Methodist University. Perkins School of Theology’s Bridwell Library is celebrating completion of a major project preserving and providing digital access to audio recordings featuring Rabbi Olan, who served Temple Emanu-El as Rabbi from 1949 until his retirement in 1970.

Bridwell’s archival collection includes 210 recordings of The Temple Emanu-El Program, a radio show broadcast for many years by WFAA-AM in Dallas. Concern about the 40-50 year shelf life of reel-to-reel tape, along with a desire to make the recordings more easily accessible to the public, led Bridwell Library Archivist Tim Binkley to contact Rabbi Olan’s daughter, Elizabeth Hirsch, in 2010. Hirsch then formed a committee that ultimately secured donations to fund migration of the recordings into digital format by SMU’s Norwick Center for Digital services.

This event is free of charge, but reservations are required. For more information or to RSVP, contact Brittany Morgan, bemorgan@smu.edu, 214.768.3483. The event will be held in the Great Hall of Elizabeth Perkins Prothro Hall, 5901 Bishop Boulevard. For a map, visit smu.edu/maps.

Improved sound, lighting will enhance worship

Perhaps you’ve noticed: Our beautiful worship spaces have some auditory deficiencies!

Often, our congregants note that they can’t hear everything clearly in the Olan Sanctuary or the Lefkowitz Chapel. In the planning for Our Temple | Our Future, we’re giving careful attention to improving sound reproduction in both of these worship spaces. It’s an exciting prospect, because the Sanctuary and the Chapel are utilized in many different ways, and modern technology will help people feel truly included in the music of prayer, while also improving audibility and making the spaces more versatile.

When Olan Sanctuary was built, it was designed to enhance music from the back of the room and spoken words from the front. Now that cantors, instrumentalists and our renowned Temple Emanu-El Choir often lead worship from the front, the Sanctuary needs to be acoustically rebalanced so that music feels warm and engaging, no matter where it originates. Also, the cantors and musicians need to be able to hear one another, which is currently almost impossible, and we need to fix “dead spots” caused by the overhead dome that keep some congregants from hearing everything well. Our goal is to install state-of-the-art sound reproduction equipment that will greatly improve all these dynamics.

Lefkowitz Chapel is an extremely resonant space with a now-antiquated system that brings sound to the congregation from an angle. The result is a lack of both clarity and immediacy. In addition, the Chapel lacks the capability for mixing voices and instruments in a satisfying way. Proposed improvements include installing acoustical features that would cut down on the echo, along with a modernized amplification system and related technology for blending sound so it can be experienced consistently from the front of the room to the rear.

We also want the capability to stream images and audio on the Internet, so that congregants who are unable to attend worship events can tune in remotely or watch recorded video. The necessary equipment will be included in the new worship space – both Olan and Lefkowitz need to be retrofitted as well.

Technological improvements such as these, along with enhanced lighting, will ensure that the Sanctuary and the Chapel continue to host beautiful and effective worship for years to come.

Social Justice

Religious School teaches the lessons of Social Justice

Our responsibility to partner with God on the continuing work of creation is one of the most important Jewish values we teach our children. We have been teaching this lesson for years in the Religious School and are excited about how we have been able to enforce this message in practice as well. On the most basic level, each Religious School class collects money for tzedakah every Sunday morning, with the exception of one Sunday a month, when students bring in items for the Temple-wide monthly collection. Individual classes do Social Justice projects as part of their curriculum, such as making sandwiches for shelters or hosting a bake sale to benefit various outdoor and sustainability projects in Israel and here at home. One of our Tichon (7th/8th grade) classes, “The Soul and Soil Connection,” is devoted to the Religious School bed in our Community Garden and, along with Heidi Kutchin, they study and practice the values and techniques of growing and giving. This year, we have reintroduced Family Mitzvah Corps, a program for students and families to engage in Tikun Olam through ongoing social justice initiatives at Temple, all while building relationships with other Temple families. Family Mitzvah Corps takes place twice a year each during Religious School for 3rd, 4th, and 5th grade students and their families. To read more about Family Mitzvah Corps, please see page 11.

New Family Mitzvah Corps: Religious School, Youth collaboration

By Joanne Yurich

This year, the collaboration between TE Religious School and Youth Departments was introduced - the New Family Mitzvah Corps. With this, students in the third through fifth grade worked with their parents twice a year during Religious School to promote family learning and mitzvah work with TE’s social justice partners.

This collaboration provided third grade students with the opportunity for clean up projects at the cemetery and a Geniza service to bury old Jewish books. Fourth graders practiced the Purim program, created Hamantaschen with the WRJ and made Matanot L'Evyonim, or gifts for those in need. Each family was given a budget to create care packages for the homeless - a rewarding experience indeed. With continuing efforts to mold young student minds, the fifth grade took a trip to the North Texas Food Bank to learn the importance of giving to others. In addition, all three grades participated in a special project with the Vickery Meadow Food Pantry.

Families discussed the mitzvah of feeding the hungry, as they split into groups and purchased Wal-Mart groceries with funds provided by TE’s Social Justice Council. Following this, each humble hearted family proceeded to the Food Pantry for a tour and shelf stocking.

The Zlotky’s are just one of the generous families who have devoted their love and time toward helping others. Jeff and Lauren have high standards for the knowledge their children have regarding their religious identity. 12-year-old twin boys - Ryan and Reid are active in the Temple’s youth activities along with 8-year-old twin sisters - Allie and Megan. The involvement of this program has “had a powerful impact” said Lauren. She also mentioned her daughters wanted to tell a homeless person about the healthy food available at the Food Pantry - this was the moment she realized her daughters really understood the mitzvah they did.

Dear Member,

We are excited to inform you that Temple Emanu-El will be participating in the upcoming Community Scan of the entire Jewish community of Greater Dallas. The Jewish Federation is sponsoring and underwriting this scan in an effort to help us better understand community needs. They have employed a professional market research firm, Measuring Success, to implement and coordinate the scan. Measuring Success has developed valuable information for other communities such as in the New York and Chicago Jewish communities.

We are currently involved in a series of meetings with a task force, key informants and focus groups to plan the research. Far more than a demographic survey, and not relying on anecdotal information, the value of participating in this Community Scan is that the results will be data-driven, where we will be able to explore things like gaps in service to members of the broader Jewish community, what constituents think of various agencies and Jewish organizations in our community, barriers to participation, etc.

You will be asked to participate in the actual survey. Please give it your best attention. Your responses will not only be synthesized into a community-wide analysis but also into an analysis of our own Temple membership. The survey will be coming to people with known e-mail addresses. If responses are not received, people from Measuring Success may be calling you by phone to complete the survey. All personal information will remain private and confidential.

Aside from the data collectors at Measuring Success, no other agency or people will have access to any Temple members’ information. We strongly encourage you to participate – for the strength and future of our Temple community and our Dallas Jewish community at large.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Executive Committee member, Marcia Grossfeld, at mgrossfeld@urj.org or Program Director, Karen Hoffman, at khoffman@tedallas.org or 214.706.0000.

Sincerely,

Scott McCartney,

Reflections on E+2 at Passover

Bruce Neustadt reflects on his E+2 match to the Laurie and Mark Miller home: “I really appreciate Temple providing this service as it has given our family a wide variety of Passover experiences ranging from the very strict and nearly in the area of being Orthodox to the not so much but the end result being the same, a great Passover memory and knowing that not everybody does the service the same way. It has helped my kids to know that whatever manner they choose to celebrate is fine. And we have met some wonderful hosts and other guests.”

Ongoing Support Groups at Temple in partnership with Jewish Family Service

Breast Cancer Support: For women who have had a diagnosis of breast cancer at any time in their lives. The group meets the second Monday of every month from 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. in Levine Conference Room.

Caregiver Support for loved ones taking care of loved ones as spouses or as children of those with long term illness. The group meets on the second Tuesday every month from noon - 1:30 p.m. in Levine Conference Room. Sack lunches welcomed.

Grief Support: For adults of any age who have suffered a loss through death, the six-week session is offered twice a year in Fall and Spring.

If you or someone you know for whom any of these groups may be appropriate, feel free to forward the information or contact Peggy Papert at ppapert@tedallas.org.
A conversation with Madelyn Rosenbaum about Careline

I have chaired Temple’s emergency Careline for almost five years and in total, I have been a Careline volunteer for eleven years. I thought this was a great way to make a contribution and connect with our members in need of assistance. The purpose of Careline is to be the link for any Temple Emanu-El congregant to reach clergy in the event of an emergency for the congregant and their family. Our volunteers provide phone access Monday thru Thursday from 4:45 p.m. to 9:00 a.m., and staff volunteers take the weekend shifts. A typical volunteer works and is assigned one time a month.

My biggest learning curve was setting up the volunteer calendar, electronically. A lot of us were technologically challenged and we have grown together as a group, ultimately embracing the technology. So, we not only make the caring connection for our members, but we have the opportunity to learn along the way.

What types of calls do you handle?

We receive a lot of calls from local hospitals asking to provide clergy for Jewish patients. They are not always members of Temple. It is so interesting that our clergy actually do know every single member of the congregation; who is related to whom – all the family layers. Should the caller not be a member of Temple, the volunteers have a detailed listing of resources in the Jewish service organizations in the community for referrals.

Everyone is very appreciative that they reach a person who cares and offers assistance.

I know you do not handle this alone. How many congregants assist you?

We are fortunate to have such a dedicated group of volunteers, though we are always looking to welcome our next caring person. Anyone interested should get in touch with Peggy Papert.

How do you protect your heart hearing so much sad news?

I have this feeling of doing something so positive in that situation and you feel better knowing you are giving them tangible help. We do not receive a lot of calls, though we find when a call comes in it is such a wonderful time to reach out to the person in need and to provide as much comfort as we can. We obtain their information and immediately contact one of our rabbis to get back in touch with the congregant, or family member.

If you could communicate one or two tips to the congregation about this service, what would that be?

A Careline volunteer is the bridge that helps make Temple accessible 24/7 in the event of an emergency for our membership. There is no break in the chain of access at Temple for a member in need.

Board Meeting and Lunch, May 22
Wednesday, May 22, 11:30 a.m. - 1 p.m.
WRJ Board Meeting and Lunch, in Linz Hall
Vote on the budget for 2013-14. This is an open board meeting, and everyone is welcome. We are also looking for new ideas for programs and projects. Contact Joan Genender, jgenender@aol.com with your ideas! If you plan to attend the meeting, please contact Celia Saunders at 214.502.1902 or threeboys1@aol.com, so we will know how many to expect for the delicious, complimentary light lunch.

Quilting Circle meets May 21
Tuesday, May 21, Quilting Circle, 6:30-8:30 p.m., Weiss Youth Wing, lower level.
NOTE: Tuesday, May 7 meeting is canceled to enable our quilters to attend the Theodore Bikel concert being held that same night.
The class has begun a service project. We are making quilts for the Dallas Children’s Advocacy Center to be given to children who are being removed from their homes for their own safety. It is never too late to learn how to quilt; everyone is welcome at any class. If you already know how to quilt, please join in to help with this project! For information, contact Shirley Reynolds at 903.327.2981 or sdrred@att.net.

Unsung Hero luncheon
March WRJ Centennial Unsung Hero lunch for Celia Saunders included surprise “flash dance” mob singing “We are family” to recognize all who help Sisterhood. In the photo above, Leah Beth Kolni, Sharon Willey, Brenda Waters, Celia Saunders and Minnette Klein hold super-sized mixer presented to the Tobian kitchen, aka “Minnette’s kitchen.”

Daughters of Abraham meet on May 16
Thursday, May 16, 7-8:30 p.m., Daughters of Abraham
This non-political, interfaith and intercultural group of like-minded women meets on the third Thursday of each month at a church, mosque or synagogue, rotating monthly. Together, we explore our varying religious beliefs and cultures while learning from each other with a spirit of tolerance and respect. All women of Christian, Muslim and Jewish faiths are invited to attend! Meetings are open and free of charge; no membership is required. Please plan on attending this month’s meeting to learn more about this wonderfully diverse organization that promotes peace through understanding. Hosted by our Muslim friends. Muslim contact for May meeting location and topic is Zena Darwazeh at 214.436.6885 or zena.darwazeh@gmail.com. Temple Emanu-El contact is May Sebel at 214.361.5511 or msebel@sbcglobal.net.

Hope everyone attending our annual FUNdraiser May 4 has a wonderful evening!

Looking forward to a great Brotherhood year

By Steve Levine
President of Temple Brotherhood

My year as Brotherhood president has begun and I am looking forward to a great year. I feel that Brotherhood should be a vital part of Temple Emanu El. We have always provided funds for different activities at Temple, but I feel we need to be more involved. For the past two years we participated with WRJ and the Religious School Committee to provide a “pancake breakfast” for the parents registering their students for the coming year. We are more active with the Boy Scouts at Temple and joined them for the Scout Shabbat. Our guys cook more than 2500 meals per month to various charities. There are many more ways that our Brotherhood can become more integrated with the many facets of Temple. We would like to know about any group at Temple that could use our help. We have a good core of concerned members working for the benefit of Temple. We need to expand our membership so we will have more resources to work for the Temple community. Thinking about joining and want more information, please contact Tom Timmons or me. Our email addresses are: stevelevine@flash.net and Timmons@ippractice.com.

Randy Myer gives D’Var Torah at the March meeting

Randy Myer presented the D’Var Torah for the week to members of the Brotherhood who were present for the monthly meeting in March. The weekly parsha came from the book of Exodus 35:1 - 40:38 and is called Vayakhel and Pekudei. Randy discussed the fact that the Mishkan, or Tabernacle, was finally complete. The nation looked at the magnificent work with great joy, and Moshe was proud. So proud, in fact, that he did something that he only did once more – just before his death: he blessed the entire nation.

Randy finished his discussion by stating that Hashem promised that he would dwell in the Mishkan. However, Moshe’s questions were, “Would the Jews let him in?” “Would they make him a partner?” “Would they recognize Hashem as a significant factor even in the physical handiwork that they themselves had wrought?”

These are great questions for each member to answer for himself.
