OUR MISSION

At Temple Emanu-El, the creation of a vibrant community is both an enduring value and an ongoing endeavor. For us, community means a sense of warm welcome, meaningful relationships and mutual responsibility. We affirm a sense of both valued boundaries and a great respect for diversity. We celebrate our identity as a multigenerational community.

Wow, just wow! Our TE150 celebration year is building toward an unforgettable finish, as we revel in the remarkable legacy of Temple Emanu-El and dream about its very promising future. From a starlit Sukkot dinner to the magical Light Years evening, and all the services, learning and social justice opportunities in between, Temple has made the most of a most special birthday. At the center of all the activity has been you, our beloved community. You have offered countless volunteer hours, generous gifts to support our financial goals, and most of all, your love and compassion each and every day. TE150 is winding down in a few months, but not without beautiful new beginnings inspired by our giving community. May each of you take a bow for one swell celebration!

MESSAGES FROM OUR PRESIDENTS

Upon reflecting on all that we have accomplished together over the past year, I cannot help but feel an enormous sense of pride. As always, our calendar overflowed with activities, celebrations and worship opportunities, but the energy and joy we all felt coming out of a challenging few years was and continues to be truly palpable. Our Temple Emanu-El community emerged stronger than ever.

Our celebration of TE150 began with the wonderful Harvest celebrations, kicked off by a 900-person strong Sukkot dinner under the stars and a lively, spiritual concert by Elana Arian, one of the lights of contemporary Jewish music. In the winter and spring, we moved into the Creations phase of the celebration, with the dazzling Light Years art and technology experience. More than 1,000 people in our community enjoyed a magical night, with six amazing art installations, a delicious food truck dinner, community and an undeniable sense of joy throughout the evening.

As you'll see in Bob's remarks on this page, there is so much more to come!

Because of your support and the tireless efforts of our volunteers, it was another record-breaking fundraising year. The Annual Fund closed at just over $1,800,000 and the Ensuring Our Future Endowment Campaign continues to move closer to its $45,000,000 goal.

Indeed, we all have much to be proud of and so much to look forward to. Thank you from the bottom of my heart to you, our members, for making Temple a very special community.

May we continue to go from strength to strength.

Beth Gold
President
March 2021 to March 2023

We are pleased to present this year's Impact Report. You'll see in Beth's letter and in the following pages that your incredible generosity, through the record-setting Annual Fund campaign, enabled Temple to engage in the work at the core of our daily existence — worship, life cycles, education, music, social justice and more — as well as the extraordinary celebration of TE150, with events that brought our community back together in record-setting numbers.

But we are just getting started. The conclusion of the TE150 celebration in the coming months is not an end, but rather the beginning of our future. You will have the opportunity on Yom Kippur afternoon to share your thoughts about Temple's future, which will then feed into an exciting program on Oct. 22 about our future and the future of Reform Judaism. We will inaugurate a comprehensive program for our YL+E youth to combine classroom social justice learning with experiential tikkun olam opportunities. We will commence our donor-funded partnership with United to Learn and DISD to promote STEM learning through school gardens and further our connections with the broader Dallas community. We will open our completely reimagined archives space, now to be known as the Barbara Zale Center for Living History, featuring a state-of-the-art interactive digital media wall and a new gallery space, all funded by the generosity of five Temple families. We will launch a reimagined Sh'ma Emanu-El program, and we will conclude the TE150 celebration with a very special Rededication Shabbat and dinner on Nov. 3. Lastly, we will commemorate the end of the remarkable $45-million endowment campaign, which will provide us with substantial financial security for generations to come.

Of course, essential to all we do is the Annual Fund, which helps make Temple available to all regardless of ability to pay. Inside this packet, you will find materials for our 2023-2024 Annual Fund, Creating Possibilities Together. We hope that all who are in a position to do so will continue to give generously so that we can continue to build upon the extraordinary legacy of the past 150 years.

With gratitude,

Bob Krakow
President

Beautiful New Beginnings

ANDY AND MICHELE BLOCK

Andy Block, a longtime Dallasite originally from Cincinnati, joined Temple Emanu-El in 2020 to reconnect with his Jewish spirituality. New to Texas from the East Coast, Michele Galen Block joined Temple in 2019 for community. What they didn't expect was to find each other.

The two professionals, both parents of two adult children each, met in the fall of 2020 during the pandemic, in an online Wise Aging class, and while they both felt a connection, they didn't talk much outside of class. Some months later, when Temple resumed in-person services, they kept bumping into each other at Friday night services as volunteer greeters, and they began to talk.

As Andy recalls, he got up the nerve to ask Michele on a date after services one night. The relationship blossomed from there. Andy and Michele became Temple regulars and they have developed a wide circle of Temple friends, including through their beloved Sh'ma group.

Andy proposed to Michele on Jaffa Street in Jerusalem during the June 2022 Temple trip to Israel. Much to Andy's surprise, Michele proposed back to Andy on the top of Masada. They celebrated their union at Temple on May 28 with Cantor Vicky Glikin officiating and Patrice Koenig accompanying on piano. Michele is now on the board of Women of Reform Judaism and Andy is on the board of Brotherhood. Both look forward to deepening their connection to Temple even more.

‘The Practice is the Teacher’

TAMMY CANCELA

Tammy Cancela started attending services at Temple nearly 20 years ago and has recently taken on the role of Vice President of Communications for Women of Reform Judaism. In her own words...

“I was attracted by the warmth of the people, the excellence of the clergy and music programs and the creative programming, especially Jazz Shabbat. About five years ago, I decided to focus more on my own faith journey and began exploring some of the opportunities to study and participate in a Sh'ma group. Then, friends recommended different things that might interest me and before I knew it, I was involved!

There is a teaching in yoga that applies here: The practice is the teacher. In other words, one can think about practicing or one can actually practice. The more I have studied, attended services and prayed, the more I want to do those things. Temple is a source of calm, perspective and opportunity to do good in the maelstrom of everyday life.

My personal core values align very closely with Temple's core values. In particular, long before meeting Temple Emanu-El, I identified learning, spirituality and social justice as some of my own values. This community is a good fit for me and I hope I can contribute in a meaningful way.”

‘A Journey of Love and Faith’

ELLEN AND ALLAN METZ

Ellen and Allan Metz met at Temple 59 years ago, and have been married 55 years. Mazel Tov!

Ellen: I grew up at Temple. I went to Sunday school here, got confirmed here and I even remember Rabbi Olan well.

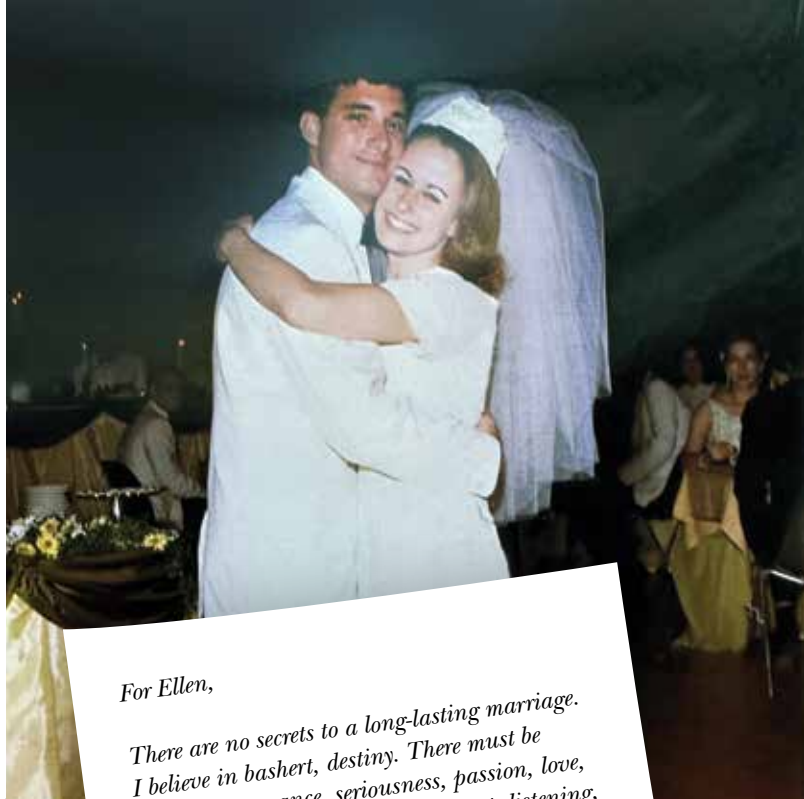

Allan: I am originally from Tennessee. My dad got transferred to Dallas for work after I graduated high school and then one year later, I met Ellen.

Ellen: We were both part of a group called the Lavaliers, and it was for young, single people looking to find their match. There would be get-togethers and dances right here in Tobian. One year, between our sophomore and junior year of college, we both went to a dance. I happened to be dancing with somebody else and Allan came over, tapped the fellow on the shoulder, and asked me for my hand.

Allan: It was Saturday, June 25, 1964, and I remember exactly where I was standing; I was at the door, and as soon I saw her far across the room, I decided to make a beeline straight to her. The rest is history.

Ellen: After summer, we went back to our colleges and were only able to write letters back and forth because long distance calling was so expensive that we barely even got to call home. We would, however, get together during our vacations and breaks from school. Three years into our relationship, Allan proposed, and boy was I over the moon. Our dream was to get married after college, but we had to wait until Allan finished his first year of medical school and I finished my first year of teaching school.

Allan: We got married on June 15, 1968, here at Temple with Rabbi Gerald Klein and we had our reception in Tobian right where we met. In 1972, we moved to Oklahoma City so I could start my residency in internal medicine. We moved back to Dallas in 2022 — exactly 50 years later — because our two children and our five grandchildren live here and are also members of Temple. After moving back, we feel like Temple is our second home.

For Ellen,

There are no secrets to a long-lasting marriage. I believe in bashert, destiny. There must be chemistry, romance, seriousness, passion, love, trust, appreciation, kindness, respect, listening, patience, commitment, forgiveness, compromise and responsibility. We have had a lot of fun with abundant laughter; a sense of humor helps. We continue to work together through the struggles and low points with the same intention of loving each other despite knowing each other's imperfections, vulnerabilities and flaws. The deep-seated joy of being in love has made me whole and content. For me, marriage is a journey of love and faith, and with God's help, good fortune.

Thank you, Ellen From Allan

PRAYER AND SPIRITUALITY

Chazak, Chazak, V'nitchazeik: From Strength to Strength

ROZ KATZ

Roz Katz and Pam Rollins are the longtime Torah readers at the Simchat Torah morning service, where we read the last words of Deuteronomy and the first words of Genesis.

How long have you been Temple members and how long have you been reading at the Simchat Torah festival service?

Roz: I have been a Temple member for 28 years and have had the honor of reading at the Simchat Torah festival service since 2001. If given the opportunity, this year will be my 23rd.

PAM ROLLINS

Pam: I've been a member of Temple for 25 years, and have been reading Torah for Simchat Torah for 20 years.

How do you feel most connected to Temple?

Roz: This is a challenging question, as if I could distill the many meaningful connections I have to Temple to a single one. Temple is my spiritual home, where I connect to the Source of Life alone and in community, in worship services, while learning, engaging in social justice activities, and studying with my students. These are intertwined, woven together like a Havdalah candle or a precious tapestry.

Pam: At this stage, my connection to Temple is mostly about Shabbat evening services and community. In the past, I was very involved with adult education, with bringing Mussar practice to Temple and with growing the spirituality and small group initiative.

Why do you keep saying “yes” to reading the last chapters of Deuteronomy and first chapters of Genesis at the service?

Roz: Responding to the invitation to read at this service is like accepting an unanticipated honor every time — humbling, actually.

Pam: Growing up at a time when women did not read from the Torah, I feel it is my right and obligation to read Torah at least once a year. Simchat Torah allows me to start the year off right.

How does reading for the Simchat Torah festival service impact you?

Roz: This service marks the end of the High Holy Days with time of deep reflection, gratitude, and homage to those who came before us. I love how the service highlights the integral role of Torah in our lives — after we read the last words of Torah, we immediately read the first, the day of creation. The fact that the last letter of the last word (lamed) and the first letter of the first word (vet) together form the word lev, or heart, speaks volumes.

Pam: It is an amazing feeling to read the last verses of Deuteronomy from a Torah wrapped around the community. In addition, I love the morning service, when I get to say the Mi Shebeirach, touching two open scrolls. It provides light that stays within me all year.

How is Temple important in your life?

Roz: For me, Temple is a grounding force, especially in daunting, chaotic times; a place to reconnect with my soul and with God; a place of warmth, acceptance and welcome that nurtures a loving community; a place of peace, compassion and joy.

Pam: Temple has been an essential component of my life in Dallas, providing my family with concentric circles of community as well inspiration from music and the clergy.

Lefkowitz Chapel, Life Cycles and More

JANET AND ROBERT ELKIN

Janet and Robert Elkin share a passion and commitment for supporting prayer, music and spirituality at Temple. From the Shabbat morning service in Lefkowitz Chapel to their own personal life cycle events, Temple has been a safe place to connect with and question their spirituality.

“Even when there might be thousands of other people around like during High Holy Days services, Temple feels like home,” says Janet, a member since 2001. “Of course, there are the happy events, but just as important is how Temple has been there for me for the things that aren’t so happy, like losing a parent during the height of the pandemic, or right after 9/11 when we were all so confused and unsure. All those moments are easier to navigate with the embrace of Temple clergy around us.”

Robert, a member since 1985, has served in multiple leadership roles and is currently leading Sh’ma Emanu-El. In addition to his governance work: “Temple has been a great place for me to carry out some spiritual searching and with lots of opportunity to explore what my connection is to something greater than myself that I experience as God. That spiritual connection is what makes this place so special to me.”

SOCIAL JUSTICE

Growing Sisterhood

Women of Reform Judaism has deep roots in combining sisterhood and social justice. Over the past year, the group has increased its dedication to doing good while having fun and connecting with other women. One project that stands out is the group's work with Bonton Farms, a South Dallas urban farm, located in a food desert, that grows fresh, healthy food for its neighbors. WRJ members helped plant an herb garden there over the winter. Robin Nathanson, WRJ president, describes the special day: "The day we spent at Bonton Farms, working side-by-side and learning about our South Dallas community food desert, left quite an impression on our members, so much so that we have programmed a social good project for every meeting this year."

In addition to the ways WRJ brings people together, the organization also generously supports many important activities at Temple, especially in but not limited to the areas of education and engagement, membership events, welcoming new members and community service projects.

We extend our deepest deep gratitude to Women of Reform Judaism!

Building Brotherhood

This year, the Temple Emanu-El Brotherhood found a new mitzvah project to help the community and have a chance to connect with one another while doing so. They partnered with the Dallas Furniture Bank, a nonprofit started by Temple members Sheryl Fields Bogen and Jerry Szor whose mission is providing furniture to families transitioning from homelessness. Brotherhood came together on two Sundays to assemble 115 pieces of new and recently donated furniture. After assembling items the Furniture Bank had provided, the Brotherhood decided to take the mitzvah one step further by purchasing furniture to donate to the furniture bank.

In addition to the generosity of time and building know-how, Brotherhood has also provided grants to help enhance Temple security, including purchase of 17 security radios, a card key printer and a security golf cart. Kol ha kavod, Brotherhood!

Generation ECEC

LEANY AND JUSTIN LAUB

Leany, a software engineer from south Florida, and Justin, a native Dallasite working as an investor, are delighted with the programs Temple offers for young families and children.

“After welcoming our first child, Lorraine, we were looking for a community to join that would allow our daughter to meet other children and families with similar values. Justin grew up going to Temple Emanu-El and even had his bar mitzvah at Temple. Every time we walk through the ECEC halls, Justin experiences a wave of amazing memories from when he was a child. He is excited for our daughter, Lorraine, to attend ECEC and experience all the good times he experienced many years ago.

We have been adult members of the Temple coming up on a year now. It has been wonderful seeing our daughter go to Shabbat and Together Time every Friday with her grandmother, Raffy. It is a perfect start to her weekend and a great opportunity for Lorraine to engage with the Temple community and enjoy herself. Lorraine has become so comfortable going to ECEC and she loves learning her way around. Raffy absolutely adores the time she gets to spend with her granddaughter at ECEC community-oriented events. We have another baby on the way this summer and hope to carry on this tradition with our son once he arrives.”

The Moments that Matter Most

Two teachers in the Youth Learning and Engagement Sunday program, Sarah Bates and Josh Hedderich, share the special ways being a teacher on Sundays allows them to connect with Temple and the community in a deeper, more impactful way.

SARAH BATES

I have so many happy memories of growing up at Temple Emanu-El: from preschool to Religious School, Confirmation, being a Madricha and of course, the DAFTY youth group. Teaching at Temple has allowed me to reconnect with old friends, make new friends and share the joys of Temple and values of Judaism with the children in my classes. Temple Emanu-El is a special place to me, and sharing that with my students always leaves me with a smile.

JOSH HEDDERICH

During the week, I work a regular office job in commercial real estate. Teaching on Sunday mornings allows me time to connect with (and within) our Temple community, and to help ensure that these children are learning about Judaism, making connections and forging relationships with their Jewish peers and having fun! This coming school year will be my sixth year teaching and every year is better than the last. Bonus reward: watching my former students grow up and throw me high fives in the hallway as they head to their classes.

A Place to Call Home

HERNANDEZ FAMILY

The past several years have been busy, joyful and meaningful for the Hernandez family. They moved to Dallas, had two daughters, converted to Judaism and became members at Temple. Jessica and William, with daughters Ella and Jenny, are excited to get involved with ECEC and gear up for another great year of learning. In their own words:

“We converted in March [2023] with Rabbi Michael Lewis after taking Intro to Judaism classes two years ago. After we officially converted, we became members of Temple. Throughout the year, Ella, 3, and Jenny, 1, have attended many PlayWisely events and Tot Shabbats, and they especially love it when musicians come to perform so they can sing and dance together. Ella always looks forward to having fun with play dough and making friends who are creative like her. We are beyond excited to enroll Jenny in ECEC this coming fall so she can learn alongside her sister.”

THE FUTURE

Beyond TE150

A 150th birthday is a milestone to be cherished, and the Temple Emanu-El community has celebrated with excitement and lasting impact. And there is still more to come.

This fall, we will wrap up TE150 by creating and envisioning the Temple Emanu-El of the future. In October, following a time of reflection and gratitude during the High Holy Days, we will devote a weekend to exploring ideas that shape the future of the synagogue and Reform Judaism, designed to help launch Temple for the next 50 years. We will incorporate voices from a listening campaign to hear the hopes and dreams of congregants for what Temple Emanu-El can be in the broader community and in our personal lives.

We will begin a community garden partnership with two DISD schools, in conjunction with United to Learn, that will enrich learning and provide much-needed fresh produce in neighborhoods historically important to Temple. We will unveil a newly-renovated archives space and 21st-century media wall that will keep congregant family stories and Dallas Jewish history alive for future generations.

And finally, we will rededicate our beloved synagogue and our cemetery. We'll even seal a time capsule so that generations in the future can see what Temple Emanu-El was like way back in 2023.

TE150, our sesquicentennial celebration, has brought our community together in new and exciting post-pandemic ways. We have not only honored our history and impact in the city of Dallas, but also launched new social justice and community-building initiatives and celebrated commitments to our Temple Emanu-El Foundation that will help secure the financial future and excellence of this vital Jewish institution. We have enjoyed congregational dinners, a breathtaking art and light show, significant speakers, new music and old friends.

Hundreds of volunteers, staff and clergy have made TE150 happen — both the celebration and the not-yet-completed endowment campaign. Their energy, creativity and commitment have been an act of love for Temple, for Judaism, and for this congregation. They set a very high bar for the future TE200 celebration!

And for the two of us, the honor of leading the sesquicentennial has been the mitzvah of a lifetime. For us, like for so many of you, Temple Emanu-El has changed our lives and been central to our families and friends. L'dor v'dor — from generation to generation — Temple Emanu-El will continue to be there for our children and their children.

We hope you'll enjoy the activities this fall. Join us in creating and envisioning the Temple Emanu-El of the future: spiritually, strategically and financially. And let's collectively roll up our sleeves to begin again the never-ending work of improving and impacting Dallas, the world and our congregation.

With love and admiration,

Suzi Greenman and Scott McCartney

TE150 Ensuring Our Future

A strong endowment helps Temple maintain its cherished legacy while preparing for the future. The Ensuring Our Future Endowment Campaign has set a goal of raising $45,000,000, which will allow the Temple Emanuel Foundation to more than double its annual distributions to Temple and provide financial stability for generations to come.

A Letter from the Foundation's President

The mission of Temple's Foundation is to provide support for Temple and its cemetery for generations to come, assuring that our children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren have the same dedication to our tradition and its ethical values as have past generations at Temple, and that access to our tradition be affordable.

The Foundation's directors and advisors are focused on managing its endowment for long-term growth, while supporting quarterly distributions to Temple and its cemetery. The Foundation held $3.85 million in assets at the time of its creation in 2000; assets under management were $38.7 million at fiscal year-end June 30, 2023. So, in the 23 years since its creation, Temple's endowment has grown ten-fold through contributions and growth, while also distributing over $16.3 million to Temple and its cemetery during that time.

During the past fiscal year, the Foundation distributed $1.28 million to Temple and its cemetery, which supported 9.3% of Temple's operating budget.

The progress of Temple's TE150 Ensuring Our Future Endowment Campaign has been truly exceptional. One of its goals is to increase the level of the Foundation's distributions from 9.3% of Temple's operating budget to 15% of the budget. The financial impact of TE150 is now starting to be felt, as the Foundation received $4.2 million in cash gifts during the past fiscal year. These gifts were invested, creating growth in invested assets, and expected increases in distributions to Temple in the coming years.

The Foundation has averaged a remarkable nearly 6% return since its inception, higher than its benchmark of nearly 5.5% for the same mix of equities and fixed income.

None of these would be possible without the foresight of Temple leaders who saw a role for the Foundation over 23 years ago. I've had the privilege of working during the past two years with an extraordinary group of officers, directors and professional staff. I offer a heartfelt thanks to immediate past president Beth Gold for her collaboration during challenging times, and to current president Bob Krakow for his continued guidance. I have every assurance that the Foundation will continue to play a vital role in sustaining the future of Temple and its cemetery.

A Growing Presence for Good

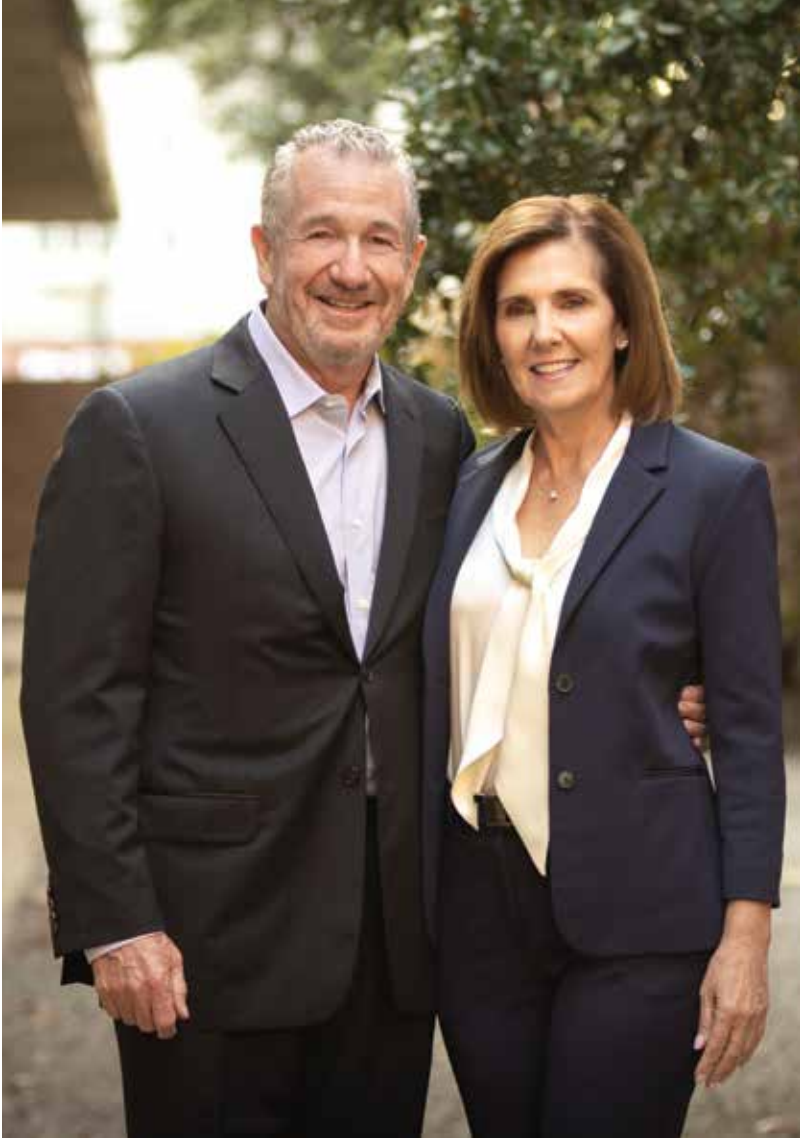

Now in its second year of activity, the Grants Committee of the Zilbermann Tzedakah Fund has awarded a total of $200,000 in grants to seven Dallas nonprofits and social service agencies.

The first grant cycle focused on early childhood education, with grants awarded to the Child Care Group, CitySquare, Lumin and Bachman Together. The second cycle focused on housing and the Committee awarded grants to Dallas 24 Hour Club, Interfaith Family Services and Family Gateway.

The Mark and Peggy Zilbermann Tzedakah Fund is a philanthropic fund created to help those in need escape the cycle of poverty in North Texas. It is housed at the Temple Emanu-El Foundation. The earnings go to the Grants Committee, which then distributes to the organizations. Sheryl Fields Bogen has been the founding chair, and leadership will transition to Barbara Hyman.

In addition to distributing the grants, the committee has worked to create relationships with area nonprofits, and to help develop leadership at Temple through its process of education and research about the issues and the agencies.

“We are thrilled with the wonderful start the Grants Committee has achieved,” Peggy and Mark commented. “The committee members have been thorough in their research and immensely thoughtful in their decisions. We could not have asked for a better partnership.”

What are endowment funds and why are they important at Temple Emanu-El?

Endowment funds create a permanent source of financial support for the mission of Temple Emanu-El. Establishing an endowed fund, or contributing to an existing fund, presents a unique opportunity to address the donor's interests and Temple's highest priorities. These funds can be created through current gifts of cash or securities as well as through estates and other deferred gift instruments. Endowed funds provide recognition opportunities by naming the fund in honor of family and friends or others who have been meaningful in the donor's life.

OUR TEMPLE | OUR FUTURE

We are forever grateful to
Our Temple | Our Future donors
for helping make Temple so full of possibilities.

BEA GOLDMAN COVENANT SOCIETY

The Bea Goldman Covenant Society was founded in 2001 to recognize those who provide for the future of Temple Emanu-El in their estate plans. The society has been named to honor the memory of Bea Goldman, who was devoted to Temple in her lifetime and directed that virtually all of her estate benefit Temple.

We acknowledge with gratitude the members of the Bea Goldman Covenant Society, listed below, who have notified Temple of their planned gifts or have generously designated Temple as a beneficiary of their wills.

If you have left a gift to Temple in your will or other estate plans, but are not listed as a member of the Bea Goldman Covenant Society, we encourage you to notify Temple's development office so that we may recognize your generosity by including your name.

Music All Over

HALLEY AND TODD SATZ

Music brought Halley and Todd Satz together, whether it's their passion for rock 'n' roll (ask Todd about the Grateful Dead!), jazz or classical blues. Music also brought them to Temple.

Says Halley: I grew up at Temple and always appreciated how the clergy incorporated music into Shabbat services and other events. Todd, originally from New York, was excited to become a member of Temple in 2005 shortly after we got married. Todd and I were drawn into the community because of our love of the piano, bongos and violin as well as the cantors' angelic voices. Simply put, music drove us to Temple.

MAC brings in people from all around the world — people you would never come in contact with — and showcases their musical and spiritual talent to our Jewish community. Together, we can open our minds to new forms of music and welcome the rhythms that speak to our hearts and souls. I leave each MAC event with the overwhelming feeling of gratitude that I am a Jew.

TRIBUTE GIVING

The following is a comprehensive list reflecting tribute gifts from donors for the period of July 1, 2022 to June 30, 2023.

'In Every Way Possible'

RUTHIE AND ALAN SHOR

Ruthie and Alan Shor moved to Dallas in 1995 and joined Temple Emanu-El the same week. And each and every year for 28 years, their commitment has never wavered. Ruthie shares the special bond she and Alan feel to Temple.

What does being part of Temple Emanu-El mean to you?

We have been committed to Temple Emanu-El in every way possible — as congregants, capital contributors and community leaders. This will never change with the Shor family. Through all of the mitzvahs, shivas and everything in between, Temple Emanu-El and its staff have provided me and my family with a second home to celebrate, mourn, study and socialize.

You are very consistent about honoring people through the Tributes funds at Temple. Why is that so meaningful?

Our friends and family play a critically important part in our everyday lives and I am committed to honoring them in a way that recognizes their milestones while at the same time helping Temple financially.

Earlier this year, you received a very special package from Temple with stones listing each of our core values. Is there a particular value that resonated with you?

All of these values are meaningful and important but the one that resonated with me above the others is community. A strong and giving community provides the lifeblood for all the other core values.
